there is a transformers inside the handle, and an electric wire at the side of handle for output the micro current.

When turn on the machine, high frequency oscillation circuit produce high frequency current, makes glass electrode discharge and produce infrared ray or ultraviolet ray light.

When skin touch high frequency current, the vascular will alternating contraction and expansion .

Spark electrolysis oxygen from the air and generates ozone , which play the role of bactericidal anti-inflammatory and improves blood circulation.

High frequency electrotherapy instrument effects reflected as follows: disinfection, treatment of acne, acne cure, reducing and regulating sebum secretion and metabolism; promote lymph and blood circulation, improving cell regeneration capacity.
